V Unnatural Son; which, being full of terrible things, was naturally much admired. Bless me! what a orrid villain, interrupted Mrs. Stokes; murder five wives! and why wasn t he hanged five times for it at Newgate, pray? Why, my dear, he was a gentleman and a genius, and they may do anything; it is only common people that are deprived of murder, with many other luxuries, said Datchet. And more shame for them as deprives em, exclaimed Mrs. Stokes, tying on her bonnet vehemently. Well, to go on with my story, continued Datchet, while we were still talking, who should come in but Mr. Trevyllian himself] I must confess he was a wonderful looking person: there was a kind of patent, selfacting-villain air about him, that gave one the idea of the devil s being a baby to him in wickedness, that...
