The most beautiful and profound emotion we can experience is the sensation of the mystical. It is the power of all true science. To know that what is impenetrable to us really exists, manifesting itself as the highest wisdom and the most radiant beauty which our dull faculties can comprehend only in their most primitive forms. This knowledge - This feeling is at the center of true religiousness. A quote by Albert Einstein, from a talk he gave in 1954, about the mystical experience of original insight; and the religious feeling of true understanding. There is an old saying to the effect that life is a gamble! a gamble in which we participate from moment to moment. In order to gamble one must be a player in a game - a game of which the outcome is uncertain. In a gamble there is something at stake on a contingency. So a gambler is one who takes a chance. Are you willing to take the chance and venture into the game? Of course, in order to be a player in a game one must first submit to learning the rules, regulations, methods and discipline of play, and so it is with life! A contingency is an event that is of possible but uncertain occurrence. Something that is liable to happen because of. That because of is Karma! Karma is a happening by unforeseen causes, dependent on or conditioned by something else. Karmic vibrations are set up according to our actions throughout our lifetime. This is the force that is held in both Buddhism and Hinduism to perpetuate transmigration and its ethical consequences to determine ones destiny in this...
